

SOCIAL AND OTHER INTERESTS OF WOMEN

SOCIETY.

The marriage of Miss Beatrice Gage, daughter of Eben Gage, 1218 E. Dayton st., to Ralph Kemble, took place Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kemble, on the Turkey Creek road. Rev. Clyde Horst performed the ceremony. Only the immediate relatives of the couple were present. Mr. and Mrs. Kemble will live with his parents.

A regular meeting of the board of directors of the Young Women's Christian association will be held Thursday evening.

The members of the Outing and Tennis club of the Y. W. C. A. will have a picnic party at Hudson lake Wednesday evening. The feature of the evening will be a bacon broil and the remainder of the time will be spent with games, boating and bathing. The party will leave South Bend at 6 o'clock. Miss Vesta Little, the physical director, and Miss Mary Lou Foster, the general secretary, will go to the lake earlier in the afternoon.

PERSONALS

Miss Vernice Elbel and her brother, Donald, have returned from a visit of ten days in Chicago.

Mrs. Louis Alexander, of Fairfield, Ia., spent the week-end in South Bend the guest of friends. Mrs. Alexander is on her way home from Oberlin, O., where she attended the graduating exercises of Oberlin college. Mrs. Alexander was formerly Miss Norva Gibson. She was the first physical director of the South Bend Y. W. C. A.

American Singer in London Will Come Back to the Musical Show, She Says.

LONDON, July 7.—"I would rather stand on the merits of my art than on merits of my Paris frocks," declared Mrs. A. Gallatin Wheeler, Jr., better known to theatergoers by her stage name of Claudia Caristodt, who announces her intention of deserting the variety stage for music.

Mrs. Wheeler, who is the wife of Gallatin Wheeler, Jr., the millionaire highway constructor of Chicago and New York, and daughter of Prof. Alex. Caristodt, of Boston conservatoire, came to London for the Hippodrome's successful revue "Come Over Here," and made a big success but she says she is tired of reviews. "I am weary of the spectacular, and want to return to musical work."

"Theater managers nowadays attach far too much importance to dressing and display. Dressing is more important than art in their view, but nothing could be more wearisome than enacting the part of a beautiful gown figure. I am tired of walking around in my beautifully chinchilla coat in the Hippodrome parade, and I am going to quit as soon as my contract is finished."

MANY WEDDINGS PLEASE GAYNOR

The More the Better He Says After Looking Over the Record New York Couples Set During June.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Mathematics, matrimony and markets were lightly touched on yesterday by the mayor, who made public the following:

"Among the interesting statistics which came in today are those from the city clerk's office giving the number of marriages for June. In June last year 5,753 marriage licenses were issued, this year 6,449. So you see there were 696 more marriages in this city in June this year than in June last year. That is bully. The more the better. Philosophers say that marriage should be made easy. This law requiring a license to be obtained is to some extent a hindrance; but on the whole the number of marriages in this city is good."

"Buckle says in his 'History of Civilization' that the number of marriages and births depends on the rise and fall of the price of wheat, or on the cost of living, as we might more comprehensively say. As the price of wheat goes up the number of marriages and births goes down, and as the price of wheat goes down the number of marriages and births goes up. What do you think of that?"

"Every now and then the cost of living is high, but if the prices of all things bear the same relation to

SNOW APPLES FOR DESSERT.

Snow apples for dessert are dainty, delicious and—best of all—very cheap. Rice is stewed with milk and seasoned with sugar and vanilla to taste. With a spoon form round shapes of the rice and add to this apple pulp. On top of the rice balls put whipped cream and keep on ice for at least four hours before serving.

MAKE ICE CREAM IN FRUIT JAR

Freezer Not Necessary—Mrs. Coe Gives Directions for Good Substitute.

BY MRS. CAROLINA COE. Suppose you have lost or mislaid your ice cream freezer.

What difference does that make? We can make all the ice cream you want without any freezer at all. And it will be mighty good stuff, too. Here's the way:

Get an ordinary water bucket and a glass fruit jar with a metal top that screws on tightly. Put the mixture you want to freeze in the jar and fill it up. Then put a layer of cracked ice and a layer of salt in the bottom of the bucket. Put the jar on top of this and then fill the bucket with salt and ice, using about one-third as much salt as ice. When the bucket is filled the metal top of the fruit jar should be above the ice. Take a piece of stout cord and make one turn about the top of the jar, letting the cord fit into the threads of the jar top. Then take the long ends of the cord and pull them alternately. This will cause the jar to whirl first one way and then the other. Keep this up a few minutes—five or ten minutes. Then open the jar and with a long spoon scrape the frozen cream from its sides. Close it and whirl it some more.

And then there is another way that the thing can be done without any whirling. This is a good thing for individual portions for invalids. Take an ordinary jelly glass with a tight-fitting metal top. Put your material for the cream or ice in this. Then bury it in a mixture of ice and salt and leave it there for a few hours. If you care to get a good solid mould it is well to open the jelly glass every fifteen or twenty minutes and scrap the frozen cream from the sides.

On the streets in Spanish cities and in other European and in South American cities as well, the "sorbetes" maker is a common sight, sitting on the hot, sunlight street, pulling away at the strings that whirl his freezer. In those countries a tin cylinder-like can is used instead of a fruit jar.

ALASKA BAKE.

The whites of six eggs, six tablespoons of powdered sugar, two quart brick of ice cream, a thick sheet of sponge cake. Make a meringue of the egg white beaten very stiff with four tablespoons of sugar. Cover a board with white paper, lay on the sponge cake and turn the ice cream out on the cake. Cover with the meringue and spread smoothly. Have everything ready to do this quickly. Place in the oven grate and brown quickly. The board, paper, cake and meringue are now conductors of heat and prevent the cream from melting. You can slip the cake from the board onto a nice cream platter and give your friends the surprise of a frozen cream inclosed in a hot meringue.

Whole Banana Ice Cream.

Wash and wipe twelve large ripe bananas (4 ones if possible). Cut the skins down one side and carefully extract the pulp and put the skins in the ice chest until the cream is ready. Mash the pulp of the bananas and mix with two cups of sugar and a cup of cream. Rub this through the colander and freeze in the usual way. When hard fill the banana skins with the cream. Pack and let ripen for one hour. Remove the threads tie the bananas up with ribbons and send to the table. This is a pretty little "company frill."

boarding places, and efforts made to protect them when they are in the city. The organization should post the girls as well as the community by literature on the pitfalls that meet them on every side.

"There is no use to try and put out the flames that are burning our city morally, unless we start at the bottom, quenching the source. It has been proven not only in this city, but all the larger ones, that it is impossible for police authorities to arrest and eject every street walker from the city. The woman finds no difficulty in paying the small fine, or penalty placed by law, and will resume her crimes if not here in some other city."

"It should be the purpose of the organization to locate every prostitute, and every house of ill-fame watched and attempt to block the evil."
